

Action on the social determinants of health and health equity in Australian early childhood education policies

Evidence supports the importance of early childhood education and development

Recommendations for policymakers

